PUTTING DOWN ROOTS AT OUR NEW HOME

BY ASHLEY WEINHEIMER

At the end of August, while the leaves were still green on the trees, before the start of classes and rush of students, the small group of incoming freshmen gathered on the Elmhurst campus. Newly uprooted and feeling a bit green themselves, the new EC students were helped with their transition by Orientation Student Leaders (OSLs) and members of the Elmhurst Blue Crew. After acclimating to their new surroundings during the "Great Move-In," the freshmen were now ready to branch out, meet new people, and have some fun.

The following week was filled with late nights and early mornings, and sleep took a back seat to the full activities schedule. To help the freshmen become accustomed to the unfamiliar surroundings and new people, OSLs implemented everything from name games to a scavenger hunt. Over the course of the week twister was played, live bands were heard, line dancing was learned, and a boat cruise on Lake Michigan was taken. Most importantly, though, the latest additions to the EC campus began to put down roots at their new home.

THIS YEAR WAS A "BLAST FROM THE PAST"

BY LISA PANZARELLA, HOMECOMING CHAIR

This year's homecoming week was held October 17th-22nd with the theme being "Blast from the Past." To start out the week, a bed sheet decorating contest was held, in which the residence halls participated in as one of the events for the "Battle of the Decades" competition. This hall competition was started last year for homecoming and was a huge success in achieving student participation as well as outstanding school spirit. Because there was such an amazing response last year, Union Board decided to try it again this year. However, since this year's theme was entitled "Blast from the Past," each residence hall was assigned a certain decade. Schick Hall was the 1950s, Dinkmeyer Hall was the 1960s, Neibuhr Hall was the 1970s, Stanger Hall was the 1980s, North Hall was the 1990s, and the Frick Center (commuter students) was assigned The Future. With each competition the groups participated in, a certain amount of points were rewarded depending on which place the alumni volunteer judges rated them as. Stanger Hall took first place on Monday with its incredibly creative Pac-Man bed sheet design. In the Roost on Tuesday night, Schick Hall won first place as many of its residents

For homecoming, I have had a lot of time and hard work into planning the pep rally and the football game.

showcased their amazing singing talents in Live Band Karaoke. Although Wednesday afternoon was a bit rainy, dedicated and competitive students came out to play some Wacky Games in the college mall; however, no one could stop Schick Hall who took first place. On Thursday night we took a trip back in time and had professional Swing Dance instructors come out to teach basic swing dance steps to eager students. At the end of the session, a Dance-Off was held as part of the "Battle of the Decades" competition in which each residence hall had 2 minutes to showoff their fancy footwork. With the Zuit Suit on and the flower in the hair, Schick Hall residents Tony Lentino and Anne Kralely led their hall to yet another glorious victory. Friday's Pep Rally was held in a new spot this year...Langhorst Field following the men's soccer double-overtime game. Although the night was getting late and the air grew chilly, students stayed to cheer on their athletic teams and participate in the 'Battle of the Decades' spirit shout competition in which Schick Hall won first place with their very own creative lyrics to Grease Lightening. The winner of the "Battle of the Decades" competition was Schick Hall (big surprise), in which they received a pizza party for their entire hall and the Golden Hall Cup to be placed in their hall until next year's homecoming. Immediately following the Pep Rally was some entertainment that no one will ever forget who came to witness this bizarre phenomenon. Stevie Starr, a.k.a. The Regurgitator, stood on stage of the chapel baffling his audience as he swallowed various items, big or small and brought them back up clean, dry and to order! He had the crowd at the edge of their seats the whole time and also had them walking away from the show asking "How does he do that?" Like in years past, a car decorating contest was held outside in the parking lot prior to the football game, in which all organizations on campus were invited to participate in. The men of Phi Mu Alpha Symphonia took the win with their creative display of being prehistoric cavemen.

Union Board was once again very successful at planning such an amazing week of events for the entire campus community to enjoy. The enthusiasm and spirit lingering in the air that homecoming week was incredible and that was just the response Union Board was looking for!

White Sox Win

SOUTH SIDERS CLAIM FIRST WORLD SERIES TITLE SINCE THE DAYS OF SHOELESS JOE JACKSON

BY NICKI KOTAL, STAFF WRITER

On a sunny, beautiful spring day, a few friends and I took a drive into the city not knowing that we were about to see the first game of the season for a team that no one thought was going to make it this year. Opening Day 2005...the shortest baseball game I have ever attended in my life. In less than two hours, the White Sox took a lead that they kept for the duration of the season, defeating the Indians 1-0.

From May to August the Sox were unbeatable. The entire city was on its feet waiting to see if the Sox could bring a World Championship to Chicago for the first time in almost ninety years.

Then, mid-August came and the headlines in the paper were changing..."CHOKER!" It was so terrible to see everyone lose faith in a team that seemed to have it all just a few weeks before that. The Sox lost their fifteen game lead over the Indians within the last few weeks of the season and the Indians came within one and a half games of taking first place over the Sox.

After watching their lead slip away, the Sox kicked it back into gear. They clinched the division, and continued on to sweep the Indians in Cleveland to end their season. And then it came...the Sox made it to the playoffs, and I was not going to miss it.

I thought, at best, I would get upper deck seats for the Division Series, but I did not care. The tickets went on sale at noon, but I had my computer ready long beforehand. Twelve o'clock struck, I hit the button, and BAM - I had just scored myself four tickets in the seventeenth row in right field to game two!

Going to the Division Series game was the most memorable experience of my life. I knew that I had to appreciate it because the Sox were playing against the Red Sox, and it was highly unlikely that they would advance to the next round. After the Sox won that night, I could not believe my eyes. I had never seen so many people cheering for the same thing in the same place before in my entire life! From the time Bobby Jenks got the last out until I had gotten in my car, the only thing I could hear was the banging of thunder sticks and "Let's Go White Sox!"

To yet again prove everyone wrong, the Sox went on to sweep the Red Sox and advance to the American League Championship Series. Again, I knew that I had to be there, but this time I was not as lucky. After spending over an hour online and on the phone, I never got through. My next step...EBAY.

A few days later, I told my boss at work that I had to go to the bathroom, and instead I went into the break room to use the computer. One of my auctions was about to end and I had to be there to fight for the tickets. 5-4-3-2-1 you are the winner! And I had my tickets to game two of the ALCS against the Angels.

I spent $160 for my seat in the last row of the upper deck, but I thought it was worth every penny. The Sox had lost game one the night before, so it was obvious how nervous the crowd was. The Sox won game two in the bottom of the ninth, and went on to win the next three games in Anaheim for their chance at the team's first World Series title in 88 years; their opponent was the Houston Astros.

The Sox had won the first three games against the Astros, one of them being the longest World Series game in history. Game four came and I cannot remember another time when I was more nervous to watch a baseball game. I was standing in the entranceway of Buffalo Wild Wings clutching to my friend's arm as I tried to watch the bottom of the ninth.

The Astros had the tying run at second base and there were two outs. The Astros batter hit the ball over the pitcher's head, and Juan Uribe ran up to make the play. Then came the throw, and I felt the chills running down my spine. OUT!!!! And the White Sox won the World Series; and I have never screamed so loud for so long.

So there it was, the perfect season, and I got to see it from game one.

Salt Creek Park Ballfield

GIRLS SOFTBALL HAS A NEW PLACE TO CALL HOME

The Elmhurst Park District and Elmhurst College worked together to improve Salt Creek Park for the community. After reviewing a number of potential sites, the Park Board of Commissioners approved plans to construct an NCAA-caliber softball diamond for the Elmhurst College softball team and an improved facility for the community in Salt Creek Park.

Elmhurst College paid for the majority of the project for the Blue Jay women's softball team to use the park. By working together on this project, the Park District and Elmhurst College saved the residents approximately $200,000 in construction and maintenance. The field was dedicated on Sunday, April 23.

Salt Creek Park is located at 574 W. Second Street, just east of Route 83. The park is the second oldest in the Elmhurst Park District.

SENIORS SAY FAREWELL TO LATE NIGHTS, TERM PAPERS, AND THE ROOST

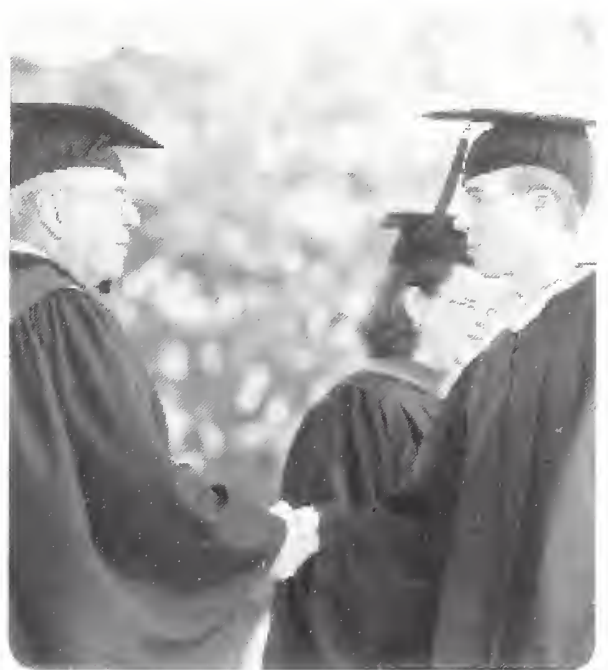

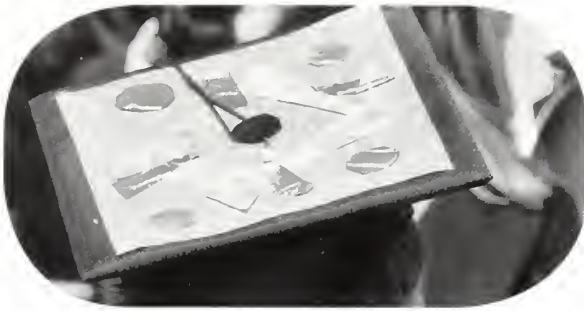

The day all seniors have been waiting for finally arrived on Sunday, May 28th. The hot sun and humid air could not stop the crowds of faculty, staff, parents, friends, and family from crowding in the mall to celebrate the achievements of all the graduates of the class of 2006.

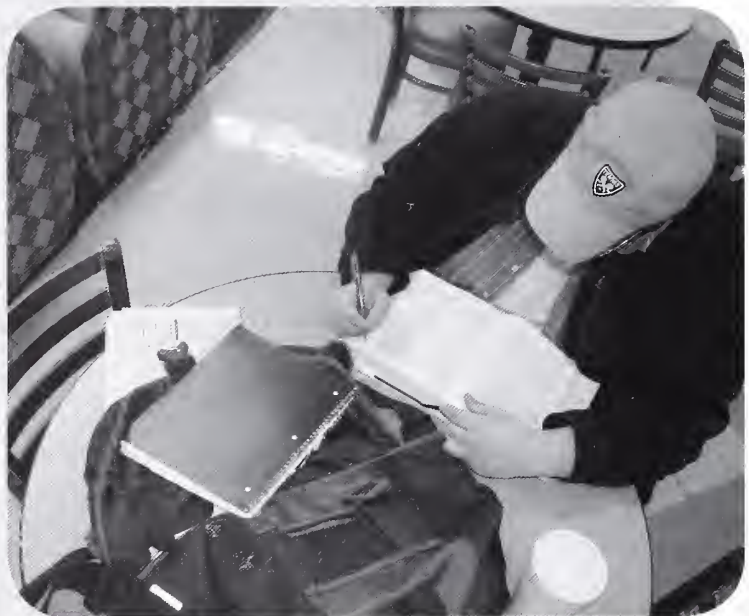

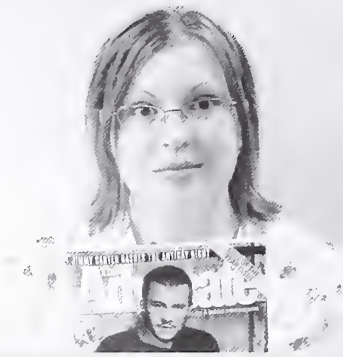

For some, closing the door on this chapter in their lives was bittersweet. Many foundations learning about life and friendships began here.

The commencement speaker, however, pointed out that a new chapter called the "real world" would begin on Monday morning. He also stated "while we are students for a short time, we are alumni for a lifetime," which makes our time at Elmhurst as students more precious.

Each graduating class gives a gift of appreciation to the college. The gift donated by the Class of 2006 is a 35-foot flag pole to fly the Elmhurst College flag over Langhorst Field!

Ever wonder how you compare to the rest of your class? Are you taller, shoter, older, younger, or are you so totally out there that no one compares? Well, now here is your chance to find out how you fit into the crowd; a survey was created and given to your peers to give us a glimpse of who makes up Elmhurst College. All of that random information, like favorite colors and books, that you always wanted to know is now at your fingertips (literally). Take a gander at the next few pages to see how you compare.

Elmhurst College is a private college, enriched by its liberal arts heritage, established in 1871 by Protestant German immigrants and affiliated with the United Church of Christ.

The College seeks to support a diverse and caring community of scholars, teachers, students, and staff who work together for the purpose of learning. The College dedicates itself to the development of humane values, the skills of critical and creative inquiry, the capacity and desire to serve others, commitment to meaningful work, understanding of global interdependence, and responsible citizenship. The College affirms the spiritual basis for living a meaningful and purposeful life.

Elmhurst College fulfills its mission through:

- Students who are ready for the challenge of education and who look forward to a lifetime of learning;
- Faculty who demonstrate their love for learning through scholarship, and their passion for teaching by guiding the studies, sustaining the spirits, and raising the aspirations of students;
- Administrators and trustees whose vision and leadership strengthen and serve the College in its ongoing pursuit of excellence;
- Staff whose contributions enhance the educational, social, and physical environment of the College;
- Alumni who embrace lives of service to the College, the country, and humankind;

nursing

Elmhurst College Nursing students spend the majority of their time in memorial hall at the dicke center for nursing, soaking up as much information as they can. Teachers pass along their skills and experiences to students in small class sizes. Students learn to be the best from the best, becuae they have to in a field that is always changing. juniors and seniors have the opportunities to do clinical work in pediatrics, emergency room, oncology, schools, clinics, and more. These students work two days a week alongside future colleagues.

The Elmhurst College department of education offers teacher candidates an array of opportunities to gain knowledge and professionalism.

In addition to spending many hours in circle hall, teacher candidates dedicate many many hours in clinical classrooms, service learning projects, working closely with classmates and professors. Many education candidates are also actively involved in professional organizations such as the Education leadership council, Kappa Delta Pi, and ASCD. Every spring members of Ascd work together to put on a mini conference for education students. Here they have opportunities to talk with and learn from other students, teachers, administrators, and student teachers. It is a great learning experience.

The field of Biology is fascinating, challenging, and always changing. Students are encouraged to explore their scientific curiosity and grow in knowledge in many ways, including classroom instruction, laboratory experiments, study abroad, and through research. Students at Elmhurst College are surrounded by resources especially a greenhouse atop the Science center, plus the campus is a Nationally recognized arboretum.

EC RUNNER GOES TO CCIW NATIONALS

The EC men's cross country team kicked off the season with the Elmhurst Earlybird Invitational; the team placed second, with runners finishing 5th, 12th, 17th, 21st, and 22nd. Mike Ptack led the team with his 5th place finish. Mike Ptack continued to lead the Bluejays on through the rest of the season. The team scored a 4th place finish in the Bradley University Invitational. Overall placing 5th at the Augustana College Invitational, Mike Ptack, Drew Hatzold, Mike Glosson, Justin Stevens, and Travis Shepard placed in the top 68 runners. At the CCIW Championships, the men's team finished a fantastic 4th place, following the North Central, Wheaton College, and Augustana College teams. The NCAA Division Midwest Regionals brought the men's team to an 11th place finish, led by Brian McConnell and Mike Glosson. Overall, a great season was had by the men's cross country team.

The 2005 season began for the women's cross country team with the Elmhurst Earlybird Invitational. Marisa Mele led the team with a 2nd place finish. Mele continued to lead the team on to a 4th place finish at the Bradley University Invitational. The Augustana College Invitational brought at 12th place finish for the women's team, with runners Marisa Mele, Stacey Turilli, Katherine Baker, Angie Phillips, and Laura Grabowski rounding out the Bluejays' scoring for the meet. The team continued to have a great season, placing 13th at the Platteville Open-UW Parkside Invitational. Mele won her second consecutive CCIW Cross Country title and helped the Bluejays to place 7th as a team at the CCIW Championships. Qualifying for the NCAA DIII Championships by finishing 8th at the NCAA Division Midwest Regional, Mele once again led the women's team to a 21st place finish. Although qualifying for nationals, Mele was unable to finish the race due to an injury. The women's cross country team had a truly great season.

The men's soccer team had a good second season, finishing 12-6-1 overall and 5-1-1 against CCIW teams. The season began with a 1-0 loss to Concordia, but quickly turned around with a win against Lawrence University. They continued to advance with a 7-2 victory over the University of Dubuque. The Bluejays took their second loss of the season to Christopher Newport University, scoring early, but ending in a score of 2-1. The team fell to Virginia Wesleyan College, but came back to beat Benedictine University in a shutout game of 3-0. They continued to improved their record with a win over Edgewood College. Tom Hunka was selected as the CCIW men's soccer Player of the Week. In the following games, the team fell UW-Whitewater and defeated Concordia University (IL), MSOE, Augustana, Illinois Wesleyan University, Carthage College, Millikin University, Principia College, and tied Wheaton College. As the season progressed, the team beat North Central College and lost to North Park University. The men's season began with a loss to Hope College, only to be followed by two wins against St. Norbert College and Simpson College. Bringing the record to 2-2, EC lost to UW-Platteville. A four game winning streak followed with wins against Rockford College, Marian College, Olivet College, and UW-Superior. Elmhurst took a loss against Albion College at the Albion College Tournament. The new year began with a win over Millikin University and a loss to Augustana College. Games against Carthage College, Illinois Wesleyan University, North Park University, and Wheaton College were won by the Bluejays. The Bluejays beat North Central College in overtime with a score of 94-91. This game was followed by a close loss to Augustana. A defeat against Millikan University was trailed by a one-point overtime loss to Illinois Wesleyan. The Bluejays bounced back with wins against Carthage and North Park. A close game against North Central ended in a loss for the team, only to be followed by a win against Wheaton. The season came to a close with a loss against North Central at the CCIW Tournament. Overall, a 17-9 record was held by the Bluejays. Chris Martin was named to the All-America team and the All-Midwest Region team. Both Martin and Nick Michael were named to the CCIW all-conference team.

TWO NAMED TO ALL-CONFERENCE TEAM

The Lady Jays began their season on the right foot with a win against MacMurray College at the Elmhurst College Tip-Off Tournament. They followed up their win with two more against Marian College and Robert Morris College - Springfield. The first loss of the season was to Concordia University (IL). The Bluejays came back with defeats over Aurora University, Benedictine University, Dominican University, Judson College, Coe College, and Central College. Rockford College put a stop to the six game winning streak. EC came back and Augustana College lost to the Bluejays. The team lost some momentum and lost to Carthage College, Illinois Wesleyan, North Park, and Wheaton. The streak was ended by wins over North Central and Augustana. In double overtime, the Bluejays lost to Millikin University; however, they followed up the loss with victories over Illinois Wesleyan, Carthage, North Park, and North Central. The season came to a close with back to back losses to Wheaton and Millikin. The team ended with 17-8 record. Two members of the Bluejays basketball team were named to the CCIW all-conference squad, Aja Terrier and Heather Furr.

TEAM WINS CCIW CHAMPIONSHIP

The wrestling team began their season by crushing Augustana 39-3. The team had similar results against Buena Vista University at the Desert Duals. The Desert Duals held a loss to Wartburg College, a victory over Coe College, and a tie to Luther College. The Knox Duals were a successful tournament for the Bluejays, with a 40-6 win over Dubuque University, a 39-3 win over MSOE, a 34-0 win over Knox College, and a 21-13 win over Dubuque University. The team lost to North Central University and came in 3rd of 15 teams at the North Central College Invitational. The winning streak continued for the Bluejays with victories over the University of Chicago and Wheaton College. The team placed 2nd in the Al Hanke Invitational and a 2nd place finish was had by the Bluejays at the NCAA Great Lakes Regional meet. The team placed 1st of 5 teams at the CCIW Championships, winning the CCIW Championship for the second straight year.

CONTALDO NAMED "PLAYER OF THE YEAR"

The baseball team began their season with a win and a tie against Macalester College. A pair of games was split with St. Olaf College, as well as with Hanover College. The team took a loss to Rhodes College. Two games were won and one was lost against Washington University. In a game against Coe College, the Bluejays took another loss. Three in a row were lost to Augustana College and another two were lost to Carthage College. The losing streak came to an end with a pair of wins over North Park University, only to be followed by another losing streak. Games were lost to North Park, Carthage College, and three to Millikin University. The team had a victory over Aurora University and was defeated by Concordia University (IL). In a set of three games against Wheaton College, Wheaton won one and Elmhurst won two. They followed this pair of wins with a win and loss to the University of Chicago. The Bluejays beat Dominican University and won one and lost two against North Central. The last three games of the season were lost to Illinois Wesleyan University. The overall season record was 14-23-1. The shortstop, Anthony Contaldo was named CCIW Baseball Player of the Year and was named to the American Baseball Coaches Association All-Central Region team.

FOUR BLUEJAYS NAMED TO ALL-CONFERENCE

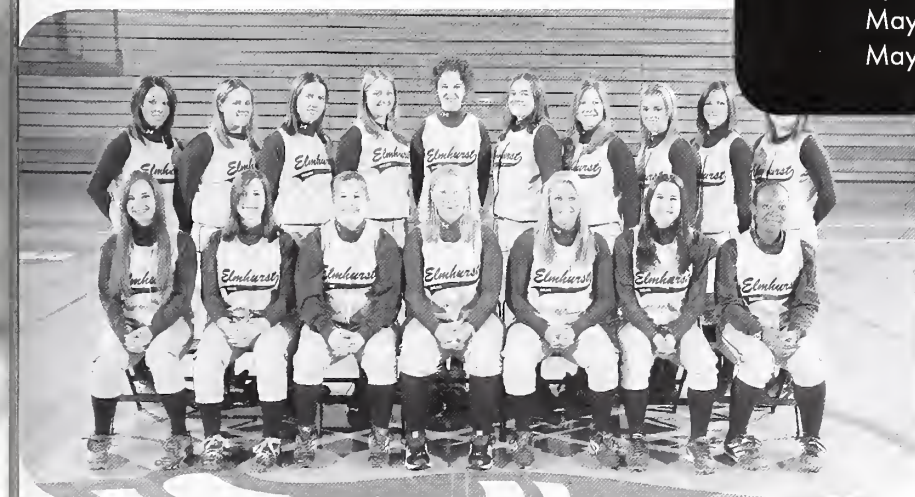

The softball season began with a 6-3 record at the Sun West Tournament. The team won games against Rhode Island University, Doane College, SUNY-Institute of Technology, Carleton College, St. Joseph's College, and Williams College and lost to St. Scholastica College, St. Mary's University, and Eastern Oregon University. Rain kept the Bluejays from playing or completing several of their games at the beginning of the season. The team swept Lakeland in a doubleheader. Losing both games to Carthage College, the team slipped to a 8-5 record. The UW-Eau Claire Tournament held two losses and two wins for the Bluejays against UW-Eau Claire, UW-Oshkosh, UW-Platteville and UW-River Falls, respectively. The weather continued to have an impacted on the season, canceling or postponing many games. A doubleheader against Augustana College came with another pair of losses for the team, only to be followed up with a pair of wins against North Park University. The team split a pair against Millikin University, Dominican University, and was swept by North Central. Another pair was split against Illinois Wesleyan, leaving the team with a 15-14 record. Playing Concordia University, the team took one and dropped. A season of splits seemed to be an appropriate summarization of the season, with another split with Wheaton College. The Bluejays took both games against Benedictine University, followed by two games dropped to Aurora University. The season came to a close with a split against Judson, leaving the team with a 20-19 record. Four members of the team were named to the all-conference team: Hilary Pietrucha, Katie Gervase, Jenny Winters, and Jennifer Cromer.
